

GOES OVER FOR REGULAR SESSION

Senate Three Times Refuses Overwhelmingly To Ratify

TREATY LAID ASIDE

Senator Lodge Offers Motion After His Resolution Is Defeated—All Compromises Fail

After three attempts to ratify the peace treaty had failed, the Senate late last night gave up the attempt and laid the treaty aside.

All compromise efforts to bring ratification failed, the three resolutions of ratification all going down by overwhelming majorities. The Republican leaders apparently despairing of bringing two-thirds of the Senate together for any sort of ratification, then put in a resolution to declare the war at an end.

Two of the three ratification votes were taken on the resolution drafted by the Republican majority, containing reservations which President Wilson had told Democratic Senators in a letter earlier in the day would mean nullification of the treaty. On each of the votes most of the Democratic supporters of the treaty voted against ratification.

The resolution of ratification of the peace treaty containing the Lodge reservations was rejected with the vote 39 for to 55 against adoption. Four Democrats—Gore, Shields, Smith, of Georgia, and Walsh, of Massachusetts, voted with 35 Republicans for adoption.

Democratic Senators favoring ratification either without reservations or with less drastic interpretations voted against the resolution, which had been described by President Wilson as one of "nullification," rather than ratification.

The negative vote consisted of 42 Democrats and 13 Republicans. The latter were:

Borah, Brandegee, Fernald, France, Gronna, Johnson, of California, Knox, La Follette, McCormick, Moses, Norris, Poindexter and Sherman.

The vote cleared the way for the consideration of possible compromise proposals acceptable to the majority of the Democrats and the mild reservation group of Republicans.

In order to put the treaty into a parliamentary situation where another vote could be had after efforts at compromise, the Senate then voted to reconsider its action. The motion was made by Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, and was adopted by the vote of the Democrats and mild reservation Republicans.

The effect of the reconsideration was merely to bring the committee resolution back to the same status it occupied before the ratification roll call.

The vote on the motion to reconsider was 62 to 30.

An effort by Democratic Leader Hitchcock to have the Senate adjourn at this stage failed, the mild reservationists lining up with the other Republicans against the adjournment motion.

The motion to adjourn was defeated 51 to 42.

TAG DAY FOR HOSPITAL

Saturday Women Will Sell Tags—All Are Urged to Help Cause

Tags will be sold on the streets Saturday for the benefit of the Alexandria Hospital. A committee of women will be engaged in the work and an appeal is made to everyone to purchase a tag for the benefit of this worthy institution. No price has been set upon the tags and whatever you can afford to give will be gladly accepted by those engaged in disposing of the tags. There is no more deserving institution in this city than the Alexandria Hospital, and if everyone gives what they can on Saturday, it will add considerably to the financial needs of this institution.

The remarkable array of talent to be seen in a "Kingdom of Dreams," featuring Anita Stewart at the Richmond tomorrow was assembled for one purpose—to make, as nearly as humanly possible, a perfect photoplay.

YEGGS BLOW P. O. SAFES

Modern Vault at Wytheville, Va., Opened With Nitroglycerin

Wytheville, Va., Nov. 20.—Wytheville postoffice was robbed Tuesday night, the robbers securing about $100 in cash and $1,000 worth of registered war savings stamps.

The burglars, who were evidently experts, forced an entrance to the building by a rear window, then unlocked a rear door, the key being on the inside of the door. Several holes were drilled in the outer door of a large iron vault and it was blown open with nitro-glycerin. Wax and packing were on the floor this morning when the office was opened at six o'clock. Odds of the explosive were noticeable throughout the building. The inner safe of the vault was also blown open, but a smaller safe, which contained stamps and other valuables, resisted, and though the top was blown off, the burglars failed to get into where stamps and other valuables were stored.

Mail sacs were used to muffle the explosions. It is believed an electric drill was used.

IN GRIP OF A COAL FAMINE

Domestic Deliveries in South Are Limited to One Ton

MUST MEET SCARCITY

Public Fails to Realize Seriousness of Situation—Strike Resumed in West Virginia

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 20.—Domestic consumers of coal in the South were put on a war-time basis last night by orders issued by the coal committee of the Southern regional committee of the railroad administration, limiting purchase of coal for home use to one ton to a household. The order followed that of two days ago cutting off manufacturers from purchases of coal and limiting supplies to the first five classes of the fuel priority list, and it was indicated by members of the committee that unless the soft coal strike situation improves shortly and more coal is mined, much more severe restrictions may become necessary.

It may become imperative to forbid use of electricity for show windows in stores, unnecessary advertising and even for moving picture and other theaters, it was said. Meantime the public generally was urged to conserve coal and lighting as much as possible. The general public does not realize the seriousness of the situation, members of the committee said.

Last night's order, which applies to all the territory east of the Mississippi and South of Ohio and Potomac rivers, except parts of Virginia in the Pocahontas district, was addressed to all coal agents in the Southern region.

CHILD LABOR AGE

World Conference to Submit Plan to Nations—Orient Excepted

Washington, Nov. 20.—Unanimous approval was given yesterday by the international labor conference to the plan of submitting to the governments represented an international agreement regulating child labor and fixing minimum ages of employment. For all countries except Japan, India and a few others in the Orient, agreement would fix the age at 14 years. The age fixed for Japan and India is 12 years.

Employment of women in industries, where the materials used might be detrimental to maternity, was disapproved by the conference.

The inclusion of India in the child labor provisions came about through an amendment that placed Atul Chandra Chatterjee, government delegate, and Narayan Mallar Joshi, labor delegate of India, in sharp opposition. The government delegate insisted the time had not arrived when such radical changes could be introduced in his country.

VIRGINIA DRY AGENT NAMED

S. R. Donohoe, Former State Senator Is Appointed

Daniel C. Roper, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, yesterday announced the appointment of S. R. Donohoe, of Fairfax, Va., as Federal prohibition director for this State. Mr. Donohoe entered upon his duties, following a conference in Washington with Commissioner Roper and John F. Kramer, Prohibition Commissioner.

Mr. Donohoe is 68 years old, is a former newspaper man and served as state treasurer and as a member of the Virginia Senate.

Commissioner Roper also announced that frequent inquiries have been received by the Bureau of Internal Revenue concerning exportation of distilled spirits during the wartime prohibition period.

There is no statute prohibiting the exportation of distilled spirits for beverage purposes or for nonbeverage purposes before the prohibition amendment to the Constitution becomes effective. The act of November 21, 1918, specifically permits the withdrawal of spirits for beverage purposes for export during the period of wartime prohibition. Spirits may be withdrawn free of tax from bonded warehouses for export in original packages, or to be bottled in bond for export.

Bottling in bond of spirits for export may be done only in the bottling warehouse of the distillery at which the spirits were produced, or at a special bonded warehouse.

HOUSE SESSION AT END

Adjournment Until December Taken: Five Vote "No."

The special session of Congress called by President Wilson six months ago came to an end in the House at 4:02 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while the Senate was still debating the treaty of peace.

The usual program of fun making and songs which marks the end of most sessions was omitted, most of the members having departed to their homes long before the hour of formal adjournment. An hour of political speechmaking took place when the House met, in which there was an exchange of criticisms between Democratic and Republican leaders made for campaign purposes. The House then took a recess until the President could be notified of the impending adjournment and sign the bills presented to him.

These included the resolution extending the war powers of the war trade board for protecting the American dye industry and a bill enabling the government to receive $400,000,000 in behalf of the railroads to pay for rolling stock bought during Federal control.

-SHOWED THEIR HONESTY

Anniston, Ala., Nov. 20.—The rugged honesty of the mountain folk who made "moonshine" and are caught at it by revenue men was shown this week when twelve of thirteen Federal prisoners began serving terms in the jail here.

The thirteenth man sent word that he would be in as soon as he had finished killing some hogs and his cell has been made ready for him! The men had all been convicted at the last term of Federal court and had been sentenced, to thirty and sixty days' terms in jail by Judge Walter L. Grubb.

All of them are farmers and Judge Grubb allowed them to go to their homes and gather their crops before beginning their terms, each man giving his word that he would be on hand at the promised time.

ALBERT L. STEEVES KILLED BY ENGINE

Body Cut in Two at Southern Railway Yards

JURY PROBES CASE

Two Witnesses Testify They Cried to Steeves But He Failed to Hear Them

Albert L. Steeves, nineteen years old, who was employed as a hostler's helper at the Southern Railroad, was struck and instantly killed at 4:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the company's yards by engine 1111.

Steeves, who had just left the roundhouse, evidently failed to see the approaching engine which was backing at the time and it was testified before the coroner's jury that despite cries made to him he walked in front of the locomotive and was ground to death by the wheels of the monster engine. His body was literally cut in two and one arm severed.

The body was taken to Wheatley's mortuary chapel and an inquest held last night at 9 o'clock by Dr. T. M. Jones. After hearing the testimony of three witnesses the jury gave a verdict that he came to his death by being run over by engine 1111 on the Southern Railroad near the supply house of the Southern Railway yard, but failed to fix the responsibility.

The jury was composed of Thomas Chauncey, foreman; Jerome Kaufman, John McCuen, Charles Wingate Summers, Julian F. Poss and H. F. Friedlander.

William R. A. Kleysteuber, chief electrician at the Southern, was the first witness called. His testimony was that upon seeing Steeves he cried to him and he failed to hear him. Leonard Chambers, colored, an employee of the company, also cried to the deceased who failed to hear him, he testified.

Engineer H. E. Hawkins testified he did not see the man at the time. The deceased is survived by his mother, Mrs. Frae A. Harre. The body will be shipped tomorrow to Dayton, Va., for burial.

C. Grasty, of Staunton, has announced that he will be a candidate for Mr. Flood's seat in the House of Representatives from the Tenth Virginia district.

STEAMER MIDLAND READY

After having been practically rebuilt at the South Plant of the Baltimore Dry Docks and Shipbuilding Company, the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company's steamer Midland will be delivered to her owners tomorrow. All of the superstructure of this ship aft of the pilot house was destroyed by fire in Washington last spring, little except her hull, which is steel, having been left of her. As nearly as possible the work of rebuilding this vessel has been along lines similar to those used in the building of the other two steamers of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, Northland and Southland.

All of the machinery has been repaired or rebuilt. Upon its arrival in Washington the Midland will be placed in commission on the line immediately to replace each of the other two steamers in order that they might receive their annual overhauling.

CLEVELAND SHORT OF COAL

Every Industrial Plant is Cut off in Effort to Relieve Acute Shortage

Cleveland, Nov. 20.—Every industrial plant in the city, with the exception of those coming under the head of "public utilities," was cut off from its coal supply late yesterday by the Cleveland coal commission in an effort to relieve the acute fuel situation here.

Several plants will be forced to close and many others will be able to operate only in part as a result of the order, according to J. C. Brainard, chairman of the industrial division of the Chamber of Commerce.
